

How to make money from a website with top MLM companies?

It is one thing telling you about it and another implementing it on your website or blog.

BY STEVE JACKSON

If you are looking for good side jobs to make extra money from home, there is only one opinion that will tick all the boxes and still allow you to be employed and be available to your family

For many people trying to find good side jobs to make extra money has one massive problem and that is time or the lack of it. The classic paradox is having just enough money to survive, but not enough to live the way we desire. On the other hand, we may have all the time, but no money to invest in a business.

Fortunately, the online marketing methods and top MLM companies allow people short of time and money to build a business. For example, network marketing is affordable and can be done on a part time basis and online marketing gives you the power of the internet and the ability to automate your recruitment and follow up system.

It is one thing telling you about it and another implementing it on your website or blog. So, once you have read this page, subscribed to my newsletter I will get back to you. We can discuss how to monetize your website and make extra money by working a few hours a week with one of the top network marketing companies.

Why you should learn more about ways to make extra money online and at home?

As we already know, we are all online. In some cases nearly all of the time. We are on our smartphones, our tablets or our laptops. We are always online, somewhere, some when and globally, we can not get enough of it.

That is why it makes it evermore important that we have a presence online if we are running a business regardless if it is a traditional or a home based opportunity.

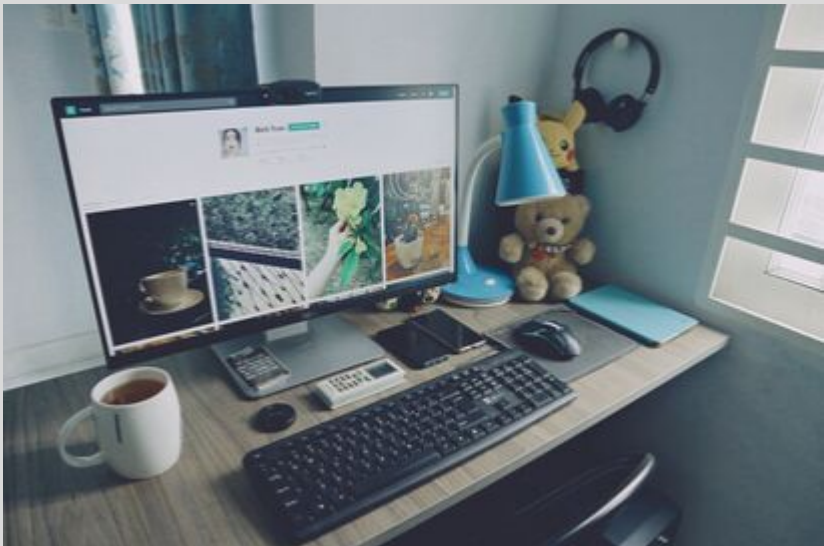

How I learnt how to make money from a website in network marketing?

My name is Steve Jackson and I have been a network marketer for many years and enjoy the freedom and success it brings. I love the concept of helping and supporting others to make money online. Greater still, it ticks all the boxes for me and allows me to run and build my own business almost anywhere in the world.

The penny finally dropped for me when I was running a tech type MLM business. I started to realize the power of the internet in relation to making money online in a network marketing business. I found that there was a relationship between affiliate marketing methods and building a team in network marketing.

Anyone who has work in the network marketing industry understand the complex world of recruiting family and friends into their business. It simply does not work as it does on paper. Family and friends do not want to hear you pitching for maybe the fourth time another one of your greater than good side jobs to make extra money. And why should they?

Returning to the penny dropping. Once I had understood that I could recruit and follow up in a single system, family and friends could be put back where they belong as family and friends.

Why should more of us research the top MLM companies for a second income?

I think one reason why many of us are searching for good side jobs to make extra money is a gender role issue. Even though gender equality is good thing for society as a whole it also has negative implications. As society moves from a one wage family unit to a two wage, the wages of the male family members over time have declined. This means when the family decides to have a child a single wage normally the fathers can not cope with to new financial burden over the long-term. This creates the need and the opportunity for the mother or the father to consider a second income from home.

Why should you learn while you earn money through the internet?

Over the last ten years we have as a culture become addicted to purchasing online. We purchase so much that traditional shops and businesses have closed down or upgraded to integrate an interactive web store. Multiple platforms have been created to allow us to purchase anything all the time. Many may feel that this new paradigm is bad for society, but the new is always seen with skepticism in the more conservative in society. However, for the children of the internet it is seen as an empowering and an opportunity to be free of the restrictions of traditional 9 to 5 employment.

Trust in online shopping has created an opportunity for people like you and me to earn a living online. This means we can take advantage of affordable hosting, home based business models and niche product lines to become online entrepreneurs.

Arguably, this is the first time in history that everyone with some basic knowledge of the internet can have financial freedom by running a business solely online. However, the traditional online entrepreneurs method can be expensive and timely for someone new to the industry. The best and most affordable alternative is research some of the top MLM companies to find niche network marketing products that you can integrate into your online business.

Are you searching for good side jobs to make extra money, but you don't know what to sell?

It is always difficult to know what to sell, but some simple rules when choosing a product line is:

- A product that customers need and want to purchase every month
- A niche and exclusive product that the customers are passionate about, so the customer become a return customer
- A high end and quality product, so you can be confident of what you are offering to the customer
- A expensive product so you can sell less and make more commissions

What you should consider before joining any of the top MLM companies

The main idea with these rules is to reduce the amount of time and money you invest in your business. However, even when joining the top MLM companies other you should still be looking at the cost of starting the business in the first place, such as:

- Is there a monthly fee? (I would avoid monthly fees, starting any business does not need any extras things to worry about)
- How much will it cost me to start? (The starting up cost should be low, but free sometimes mean rubbish)
- How much product do I need to purchase? (There is normally a small amount to receive bonuses, but the better companies you are not forced to purchased products all the time)
- How much will it cost me to run the business? (A business needs some kind of investment, so keeping the cost down should be a priority in the early stages, so what you don't really need don't buy)
- Will I get product and business training? (Yes of course, in this new globalized world much of the training is done online and if you do not live in the middle of nowhere, some training is done locally)
- How will the company pay me? (The network marketing companies have various payment methods from their own personal payment card to simply being paid directly into you bank account)

What is the best way to monetize website for your network marketing business?

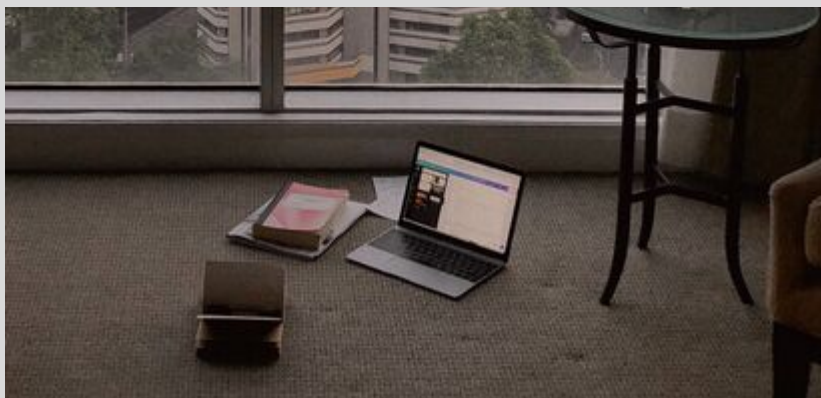

That is a great question and one that many people ask me all the time. For some reason many feel they need to disagree with me. I am happy with discourse and I do not mind being asked to explain myself. However, if someone has been in a network marketing business for over 12 months and have not recruited any more than a handful of people they need to change something.

My preferred method of building a MLM business online is by monetizing website traffic by creating content via landing pages and blogs. Then I simply encourage the visitors to subscribe to my newsletter. They can then receive more valued and interesting content via my newsletter service.

The concept is simple, prospect will visit your webpage to two reasons, entertainment or information. So, by creating informative, entertaining and interesting content you will receive organic visitors to your landing page or blog.

The second stage for the method to work is the follow up. Once someone has subscribe to your newsletter you will need to follow up with them periodically. It may take seven or eight newsletters before the prospect makes a decision to join your business or buy your products.

A vital aspect of the whole online MLM marketing method is the ability to have a continues stream of warm leads joining your newsletter readership. This means the creation of new and valued content needs to be made regularly to attract new visitors.

An independent and continues stream of warm leads are the best ways to monetize website visitors?

As I have already mentioned, most people that subscribe to a landing page or blog newsletters to buy products or to join a business don't on first visit. This doesn't mean they will never consider your offer, it only means not today. In this case as in traditional network marketing the fortune is in the follow up. So, whatever the role of your webpage is, the newsletter should still offer interesting and valued content. The reason is that your readership will start to wait for the next newsletter rather than being angry about your newsletters.

The big mistake learning how to make money from a website in network marketing

The biggest mistake by many new network marketers building a business online is that they believe that one website is enough. Nearly all the MLM training programs will tell you the same thing. The road to success is taking consistent and daily action. This means creating content everyday regardless what that may consist of.

Your other main goal should be to develop your own unique system and style that organically brings in a continues stream of warm leads. This means creating new content, content and more content and when you have finished, create some more content. There is a time when you will have enough content, but that normally means assessing old and revitalizing your content.

How do I find out more about starting good side jobs to make extra money online?

I am not going to lie to you, even considering making money from home is not for the faint-hearted. If you are willing to start a new business or career or profession new skills are required. That also mean work is required. The skills we have or are willing to learn will be the difference between success and failure.

Sadly, this page cannot explain everything about running your network marketing business online, but it does show you a little how to make money from a website. Like anything there is a process of learning new skills and implementing them with fearless confidence to the world. The only thing it take is being bold enough to express yourself put your thoughts online.
